CRITERIA FOR PUBLICATION

To achieve the highest practicable standards in the documentation of scientific and technical information resulting from NASA or

NASA-sponsored endeavors, each proposed publication, in conformance with the type of publication and as appropriate to its nature, must be subjected to scientific, technical, and editorial reviews. These reviews are to ensure that:

1. Scientific and technical coverage of the subject is complete and accurate and the text and figures are adequate for a clear understanding by the scientific, technical, or professional audience addressed.
2. Information contained in the publication is of sufficient scientific and technical merit to warrant release.
3. Scientific or technical content results from NASA or NASA-sponsored effort.
4. Papers containing security-classified or proprietary information are appropriately identified and marked.
5. Distribution is appropriate and adequate.
